Hoshino Resorts Announcing New Management Contract

Hoshino Resorts has accepted a new management contract and will run the "Hotel Kia Ora Resort & SPA" in Rangiroa, Tahiti in French Polynesia for the property's owner. The actual operation by Hoshino Resorts is starting on April 1st, 2015.

This marks Hoshino Resorts' 2nd property in operating overseas facilities, followed by "Hoshinoya Bali". Taking advantage of our operational know-how, service quality, and sheer scale of our business, which we have acquired over the years with 33 facilities in Japan, we launch a new challenge in the world-class tourist location, Tahiti, where 250,000 people visit every year from all over the world.

The Island of Rangiroa is just an hour flight northeast from Papeete, the capital of Tahiti. The Island's huge lagoon is one of the world's prominent gold mines of fish. The ocean is well known for places where you might come across big game such as manta rays, dolphins, and grey reef sharks. Always highly placed in the world's diving spot ranking, it is considered a Mecca for divers.

The "Hotel Kia Ora Resort & SPA" features 60 guest rooms facing the beautiful lagoon of Tahiti's Rangiroa Island as well as 5 private island bungalows "Le Sauvage", the annex on the southern part of Rangiroa. We are now accepting reservations for your stay from April 2015 onward. Please feel free to contact us for details.

◆The Island of Rangiroa – The largest atoll island in French Polynesia

The world's largest atoll island with beautiful lagoon

Rangiroa is an atoll island consisting of a ring of more than 240 islands. The color of the ocean created by this unique geography is called Rangiroa Blue, fascinating people throughout the world.

The world-class gold mine of fish- Diving & Snorkeling

The huge lagoon of Rangiroa is also the world's prominent gold mine of fish. The ocean is a Mecca for divers as they can run into big game such as manta rays, dolphins, and grey reef sharks. Enjoy diving and snorkeling and discover what's inside the ocean. You'll be blown away by the beautiful, colorful fish.

◆Attractions that you can only enjoy in Rangiroa

Tiputa Pass – Wild dolphin jumping

Tiputa Pass, just 10 minutes from the hotel, is one of the two passes in the huge atoll of Rangiroa. You can enjoy wild dolphins frolicking in the waves every early evening. It is quite a breathtaking experience to watch them jump lightly out of the water in groups.

The world's first wine made in an atoll island

Rangiroa is also known as the only atoll island in the world to produce wine made of the grapes grown in an atoll island. White and rosé wines made in this southern island are very fruity and are winning high praise from international wine fairs.

◆Our facilities

Guest Rooms

3 room types are available. All guest rooms are built individually for privacy. Incorporating both the Polynesian traditional motif and modern design, our rooms are spaciously structured with a sense of freedom.

Le Sauvage (Annex)

Just an hour from the hotel by boat, this private island is home to only 5 bungalows, located on the southern part of the atoll of Rangiroa. It is a place of ultimate relaxation where you can enjoy the "luxury of doing nothing" in the unspoiled nature.
