

HOSHINOYA Bali (Ubud, Indonesia)

HOSHINOYA Bali named to the prestigious Condé Nast Traveler's Hot List 2018

The renowned international travel magazine Condé Nast Traveler (publisher: Condé Nast Publications) announced on May 1st that HOSHINOYA Bali, operated by Hoshino Resorts (headquartered in Karuizawa, Nagano; CEO Yoshiharu Hoshino), had been awarded a spot on its "Hot List 2018." Condé Nast Traveler's "Hot List" is regarded as the ranking authority in hotel accommodations. It has been double awarded by the international travel magazine in the same year as selected as part of Travel + Leisure's "The Best New Hotels in the World 2018(It List)" on February 20th, 2018.

Condé Nast Traveler's "Hot List" brings the best accommodations opened in 2017 across 46 countries to the magazine's high income readership. HOSHINOYA Bali, opened January 20, 2017, is enveloped by the lush green hills of Ubud, known as a center for Balinese traditional crafts and dance, surrounded by an environment of untouched rich nature. The three hectare site boasts 30 guest villas, all connecting with the semi-private pool area allowing the guests to descend from the terrace of their villa. Café gazebos have been designed to blend in with the jungle they overlook. Guests can relax on comfortable sofas in the vivid green forest that extends as far as the eye can see. The resort is designed to draw strongly upon Ubud's vast natural beauty. HOSHINOYA Bali provides the perfect relaxation experience, allowing guests to feel in true harmony among the nature and people.

Condé Nast Traveler is one of the leading US travel magazines read by luxury travelers, bringing its readers the latest news on high-quality travel destinations, hotels, restaurants, shopping, and more. The magazine monthly circulates approximately 814,000 copies to readers with an average household income of $109,000. Condé Nast Traveler is aimed at North American travelers who demand quality on their journeys across the world.
